SUES TO RECOVER MILLION SHARES

John Hays Hammond Figures in Fraud Proceedings in New York.

New York, July 9.—A suit to recover 1,510,000 shares of common stock and 210,000 shares of the preferred stock of the International Petroleum company, which, it is alleged, was obtained through fraud and collusion, was today filed in the state supreme court against John Hays Hammond, the financier of Gloucester, Mass. Justice (Griegel) appointed a referee to hear the testimony and ordered that Robert H. Ramsey, treasurer of the petroleum company, and Richard A. Mead, managing director of the company, be examined as to their connection with the alleged transaction. The papers in the case stated that in return for claims held by Hammond against the company, the stock was voted to him by a majority of the directors of the petroleum company, who were under his domination. The action was brought by a number of stockholders of the International Petroleum company.

BEGIN FIGHT TO SAVE WOMAN

Mrs. Carman's Counsel Makes Attack on Insurance Agent's Story --New Developments Follow Fast in Freeport Mystery

Minneapolis, N. Y., July 9.—The battle to free Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman locked up in the Nassau county jail accused as the assassin of Mrs. Louise Bailey, was begun today by her attorney, George Levy.

Levy began by having District Attorney Smith informed that he had obtained an affidavit from the witness George Golder, in which he repudiated a part of his testimony at the inquest.

Then he attacked Elwood T. Barden, the insurance agent whose story of seeing outside of Dr. Carman's office window, a tall, well dressed woman, in a dark skirt and a white shirt waist was directly responsible for Mrs. Carman's arrest.

Both these efforts were anticipated by the district attorney and tonight he issued the following statement: "I heard the story of Golder before he had ever appeared on the witness stand. He told me the same story that he told at the inquest which, in brief was to the effect that when he called at the Carman home the night of the murder, he saw a woman dressed in white sitting on the porch, and that he later saw this same woman in Dr. Carman's office."

"He told me he was sure he knew Mrs. Carman when he saw her. I told Golder that he was mistaken. I knew he was then and I know he is now. It was Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Carman's sister, who was on the porch and in the office."

Mr. Levy has informed me that since Mrs. Powell denied it at the inquest, she had refreshed her memory and had told him that she was on the porch the night of the murder. And besides Golder's testimony did not have any weight with me or with the coroner. I will have him served with a subpoena and try to force an explanation from him.

"I firmly believe that he and Mrs. Powell made an honest mistake. As for Barden his story stands up well. I believe he is telling the truth. It has come to my notice that a young woman in Freeport has stated that soon after 8.30 o'clock on the night of the murder Barden was in her room which is but a few blocks from the Carman home, and the distance was such that he could not possibly have been at Dr. Carman's residence. In time to see the woman he described. I have had men out today investigating this story and find that it is perfectly correct. Barden was at the young woman's house. But he went there directly after seeing the fleeing murderers, for at the time he attached no importance to what he had witnessed. I have also heard that some effort has been made to show that Barden was not responsible."

Two of his employers in a big insurance office in Brooklyn called upon Barden in the jail today and then came to see me. They told me his honesty and integrity were unimpaired. Barden is a reliable, truthful and important witness. His story has stood every test we have put it to."

Mrs. Carman broke down today in the Nassau county jail, and the jail physician had to be hastily summoned. She was in a semi-conscious condition when the physician arrived and she had a pulse of 100. A nerve sedative was prescribed for her, by the time her husband arrived to assist the jail physician, she was calm once more. The jail physician called upon Mrs. Carman again during the afternoon and again tonight. He directed that she be placed upon a diet and sold that absolute quiet was essential. The physician said he believed his patient would be her normal self again in a couple of days.

VILLA AGAINST PEACE PARLEYS

Wires Carranza to Meet Huerta Only On Battlefield.--Conference Now Very Doubtful

Saltillo, Mexico, July 9.—General Carranza was advised officially late today of the fall at noon today, of Guadalupe before the Constitutional forces. The news was received with elation at Constitutional headquarters, where it was regarded as preliminary to the occupation of Mexico itself.

Washington, July 9.—General Villa has voted against informal peace conference between representatives of the Constitutionalists and Huerta government. His attitude was revealed in a telegram sent to General Carranza, copies of which have reached here.

This information together with the knowledge that General Pablo Gonzalez is opposed to the conference, has met the hopes of Constitutionalists here. General Alvaro Obregon, commanding the division of the north east is the only one of the three chiefs commanding the main columns of the Constitutional army who has not been heard from, but inasmuch as his forces are near Guadalupe and with in striking distance of Mexico City, it is believed he will not agree to any parleys at this time.

From the Constitutionalists who would talk, it was learned there is a misconception among the Constitutionalists generals of the things to be discussed at the proposed conference.

Local Constitutionalists therefore, are considering the advisability of sending someone to Saltillo to explain in person the argument for the holding of the conference.

The telegram from Villa to Carranza advising the rejection of the invitation extended by the mediators for informal conference was phrased in emphatic terms. He declares there should be no parleying with Huerta except on the battlefield.

That Carranza and Villa have patched up their differences was announced today by persons in communication with General Carranza. The military campaign of the Constitutionalists against Mexico City now will be pressed forward as soon as more ammunition is obtained which is expected to be within a few days.

In support of the claim that General Obregon is in entire sympathy with General Carranza and does not approve of General Carranza's split with the first chief telegrams were produced today by well informed persons.

One of these from Obregon to Carranza, dated July 2, said: "Owing perhaps to telegraphic interruption on account of heavy rains, I did not receive until today any telegrams from you with the information which you gave me about the conduct of General Villa. I am waiting for this information so as to make it known to all the forces under my command."

"I am fully confident that all the chiefs who are subordinate to me, will know always how to do their duty without fear or danger and regardless of the attitude of the other chiefs. They will respect and compel respect for the plan of Guadalupe and the convention of Piedras Negras which raised you to the capacity of the first chief of the Constitutional army."

(Signed) ALVARO OBREGON.

Chief of the Division of the North-east.

Minister Naon of Argentina went to New York to confer with the Huertista delegates.

He is understood to have told them to wait another week for definite word from Carranza.

While there is a possibility that if the local Constitutional agency sends any envoys to Carranza, with more information as to the nature of the conference, a favorable answer may be obtained, those in a position to know the mind of General Carranza are doubtful if any conference ever will be held.

Secretary Daniels today ordered the return to the home yard of the battleship Florida and the gunboat Nashville, now at Vera Cruz.

The Florida goes to the New York navy yard and the Nashville to the yard at Portsmouth, N. H.

It is understood that the Board of Public Works have prepared plans for an extension to the Peverly Brook water system which they will submit to the city council in the near future. The new plans if carried out will furnish a water system capable of furnishing the entire business section as well as a duplicate system for fire service. The plans also call for the removal of the old spiral pipe line which is said to have rusted out and become unfit for much longer service. If the plans of the board are carried out the city will have a water reserve of 30,000,000 gallons, capable of supplying all of the manufacturing industries as well as affording ample protection against fire.

Another hat landed in the ring today when E. Percy Stoddard, a representative from ward one, filed his declaration for the primaries. He is out for senator in the 24th district and makes the second republican in the race.

John A. Panning, a sailor discharged from the naval prison here on June 7, was found dead on the railroad at Hudson, N. Y., on Thursday having been killed by the cars. CONSOLIDATION WIN A GOOD GAME FROM KNIGHTS

Heffernan Pitched fine Ball but his Support was Bad

The Consolidation Coal Company, defeated the Knights of Columbus on Thursday evening, although Heffernan kept the Coal team down to one lone single, but the errors were in evidence and Heffernan could not win the game alone. The Knights let Heffernan pitch hard, but he got good support and he tightened up well when not were on bases.

It was a hard game for Heffernan to lose, for his pitching was very fine, allowing but one hit and this in the fourth, and but one base on balls, but as has been the case in former games, his team did not give him proper support. With a good hitting team Heffernan would win most of his games.

One unfortunate accident was the hitting of Miss Marion McIntire, who was seated in the third base bleachers with a foul tip, the ball striking her square in the face and rendering her unconscious. The feature of the game was Dowdell's throw from right to the plate, cutting off Heffernan.

The Knights by their defeat of last evening, drop down into second place from the bottom.

THIRD INNING

McWilliams struck out. O'Brien doubled down the left foul line. McCarthy grounded to Brown, who bled to catch O'Brien at third, but after a chasing race he got through safe. J. Mates and Heffernan struck out.

FOURTH INNING

Estebrook dropped a bunt in front of the plate and Mercer threw wild to first, Estebrook going to second. Cragen fanned. Heffernan threw wild to second and Estebrook went to third. FISHERMEN HAVING
A GOOD YEAR

Gloucester, July 9.—What is regarded as a record stock in the New England fisheries, for a schooner at least, is that of the schooner Pontiac, Capt. Parsons.

From July 1, 1913, to July 4, 1914, the Pontiac stocked $53,642, the crew each sharing $1504. It must be remembered that this also includes board, and the best of board at that.

The Pontiac is engaged in the market fisheries, and carries 16 single dories and 18 men.

Some of the best stocks in 20 years have been made thus far this season in all branches of the fisheries and these do not include one or two exceptional vessels, but run down the gamut of the fleet.

The mackerel catch in date is better than for 20 years, and the outlook is excellent. Prices are good, for instance in the big tinker year of 1884, the price paid to the fishermen was, net, $2.70 per barrel. Under larger receipts this year the price is well sustained at $9 per barrel.

WASHINGTON TO GIVE OUT MEXICAN POLICY

Washington, July 9.—That the Washington Government would give within a few days some manifestation of the policy it intends to pursue to meet any new development in the Mexican situation in the belief expressed today in many quarters.

President Wilson and his advisers still await official information of the constitutionalists' attitude toward a proposed peace conference with Huerta's envoys and declines to comment on border reports, partially confirmed in Washington, to the effect that the revolutionary leaders would not agree to a parity.

Probably the definite expression of its plans for the future will not be made by the American Government until the preparation for the conference is settled and specific information on the extent of the Villa-Carranza agreement is received.

While reports from Torreon stated that the disagreement between the two chiefs had been settled, there remained an undercurrent of content indicating that the peace was only temporary.

The movement today of Villa's troops northward from their Zacatecas campaign was explained by statements from some quarters that the United States and a few European nations had urged that the northern General be not allowed to reach Mexico City first. Administration officials declined to comment on such reports.

That the constitutionalist military campaign was progressing without the immediate cooperation of Villa was indicated in official revolutionary reports that Gen. Obregon's northwestern forces had beaten back an army of Federalists, almost at the gates of Guadalajara. Obregon said he believed his men would capture the city without much more serious fighting. Probably his forces would be unable, it was said, to attack Huerta's capital without help.

NEW WORLD RECORD FOR HEIGHT REACHED

Johannisthal, Ger., July 9.—A world's altitude record for an aeroplane carrying only the aviator was made today by Otto Linnhagel, who at the aerodrome here attained a height of 660 meters, or approximately 2166 feet, in his monoplane.

The existing record was held by J. Legagneux, a Frenchman who on Dec. 28 last year flew to a height of 6420 meters.

SALEM TO BUILD A BETTER CITY

Salem, July 9.—Entire residential areas, laid waste by the Salem fire of June 25, will be converted to new uses. Many of the homeless will move out into the outskirts and build on land that they can buy for ten cents a foot instead of upon the more valuable land where they formerly lived, in the French section, known as "The Point," dangerous three-deckers occupied land that was valued at $1 per foot. They lined the water front and it is highly probable that the land along the harbor will be converted into a park, or a parkway. Plans are under discussion among the directors of the Naumkeag Mills, located on "The Point," for the purchase of surrounding territory so as to clear it and build a park between the mills and the nearest dwellings as a protection against future conflagrations. The mill will have a fire-fighting system adequate to cope with a fire starting within the plant, and will be so far removed from other combustible material that it may not be menaced by fire-outbreaks in outside property. It is understood that the Naumkeag Mills will be rebuilt in time for operation next spring.

Three-deckers will not be allowed again by the Building Commission. The building restrictions will be so rigid as to make such structures for dwelling purposes unprofitable. This commission, having organized, will be ready in a few days to take up plans for the reconstruction of the city. It expects to be a clearing house of ideas and will engage experts to aid it. Business men are already considering a new plan for the railroad. They realize that the Boston & Maine is not in a financial condition to do what should be done for Salem, and yet the railroad problem ought to be solved in connection with the reconstruction of the burned city. Their proposition is that the state shall finance the railroad improvements, as has been done in some other states, because the work can be done cheaper now than after the city plans are completed and new houses built.

An instance of the importance of a quick solution of the railroad problem is given at the corner of Canal and Mill streets, where the Devlin Building stood. That was an expensive brick building, occupied by the P. A. Field Company shoe factory and some smaller concerns. It was one of the most expensive pieces of property that the Boston & Maine would have had to take to secure a proper grade into a tunnel, but it could be acquired now at a comparatively small figure when there is no building to pay for. The Devlin interests are in doubt whether to rebuild on that site. City Engineer Ashton has worked out a new street plan for the burned area and has submitted it to the building commission.

The members of the commission express much satisfaction with the proposed changes, which would widen a large number of streets, connect and extend others and abolish some. In some instances the property owners could exchange land with the city, or during the cost to the city.

When the wife of Bob Fitzsimmons stood at his back during one of his prize fights in the West some years ago and cheered him all through the brutal contest, and when the wife of Jack Johnson did a similar thing in Paris some days ago no one was surprised. It simply showed that the bruisers and their wives were well mated, and it is only natural that a woman should desire the success of her husband, even though his business be that of smashing other men for pay.

But when educated and titled men and women and ministers of the gospel lend their presence to the ringside and become enthusiastic at the sight of two trained and professional bruisers pummeling each other, as they have done recently in Europe, it brings surprise and the deepest regret to men and women everywhere of sane minds and sound morals. It makes no difference what excuse may be offered for this startling departure, there is no valid excuse or justification. It is simply an exhibition of people who ought to be in better business lowering themselves to a plane that they should be above.

When Jack Johnson fought his battle near Paris recently there were many distinguished people present, including women, and at a prize fight in London the other day there were present not only many women, but numerous ministers of the gospel who became as enthusiastic as any of the spectators. In fact, one of them served as master of ceremonies.

This was in Europe and should not, perhaps, be disturbing to the people of this country, but when we reflect on the fashion of importing fashions from abroad these incidents are calculated to give rise to apprehension. With the royalty of the Old World patronizing this brutal and degrading sport, how long will it be before Americans, who have sufficient fondness for it already, and while professing to outlaw it actually permit it under the guise of "boxing," throw off all disguise and restraint and place prize fighting on the plane of respectability occupied by baseball and other wholesome athletic sports?

It is to be hoped such a time will never come, and all opposed to such degrading exhibitions should stand solidly together against the possible clothing of them with the air of respectability. Happily, it is to be believed that it will be a long time before any American minister of the gospel so far demeans himself as to patronize, and thereby encourage, one of the most brutal sports in the world.

The new president of the Boston & Maine railroad, who will take the helm in August, has worked his way from the bottom to a commanding position in the railroad world. Mr. Huslis, who has been for some time president of the troubled New Haven system, has demonstrated great capacity as a railroad man, and his acquisition by the Boston & Maine should mean much to that corporation, which also has its troubles.

Mr. Rockefeller has reached his 75th birthday, but declares he doesn't feel over 60. He plays golf every day and is in a physical condition to put to the blush many a younger man. Men of 40 and 50 who begin to feel that they are growing old should look to such as Mr. Rockefeller and Uncle Joe Cannon, who is just the same age, and take courage.

A letter was considered fast enough to carry a reprimand to General Evans for saying publicly that the United States is inclined to be too meddlesome, but it is to be noticed that the resignation of George Fred Williams as minister to Greece was accepted by cable. But, of course, it would take a letter some time to go to Greece.

The Massachusetts legislature has closed a session of 183 days' duration, a length that has been exceeded only three times in the history of the state. And what the people of the state think of it may be judged by the fact that they drew an involuntary sigh of relief when they learned that their lawmakers were "thru."

It has been a late season on the sea as well as on the land, but the icebergs have finally disappeared from the lane of the ocean liners, which are now able to take the old route and save time. However, it is much safer to go around when they are known to be in the road than to take such a chance as the Titanic did.

A bill has been introduced in the senate to pay the heirs of John Howard Payne, author of "Home, Sweet Home," $205.92, which is said to be due for services rendered by him to the government as consul at Tunis. If this sum includes interest the original obligation must have been very small.

The latest fad in Paris is dancing to poems instead of to music. But in a true poem there is music, though it is to be doubted whether it is of a kind to appeal to the average dancer.

GREEN ACRE CONFERENCE

Rev. Howard Colby Ives
Speaks on Universal Religion.

The lecture Thursday morning in the Lyceum, entitled "Universal Religion, the Unity of the Spirit," was the second in the series being given by Rev. Howard Colby Ives of New York City. He first showed the connection between this and the first talk delivered on Tuesday on "Universal Education," pointing out that education was one wing by which men fly—that that was an appreciation of God through facts in the objective world. The direct appreciation of God by the soul is another way. The talk on Sunday next will round out these two talks and show the Bahai Revelation to be the solvent of world troubles.

Mr. Ives went on to show the struggle of life from the time of birth to death and stated that the answer to this struggle lies not in the things themselves but in the spiritual which always bridges between the material and the Divine, and that this answer we have called religion. He spoke of the chasm between the material and the spiritual over which we had to bridge, yet the materials for that bridge always come from beyond the chasm, there are no materials around us in the objective world that will build that bridge. This religious instinct has expressed itself in many forms and confusion has arisen through mistaking the forms for the reality. Mr. Ives went on to say that the forms had no more to do with religion than a description of the foods we eat would be a description of life. He gave a glowing picture of the various races worshipping God in their particular way and showed that all groups are equally religious provided they are sincere.

Taking up the idea of the Universal religion he said that it must be something that is fundamental, and this fundamental is life. All peoples are living and wish to live more and they find that life does not consist in the food they eat. Since religion is life a Universal religion must touch the deepest life of the soul whether that life be in darkest Africa or in the U.

rary of Spencer or Emerson to leave out a single soul robs it of its universality. If one studies the history of religions it would seem to show that these teachers have come for some spectacular show. These teachers came to show that religion was absolutely universal. But what is that religion that is absolutely universal? It is the religion of love and service. The various religions of the world are sectarian because they differentiate themselves from each other. It can thus be said that they are polytheists, for a polytheist is one who imagines that God expresses himself in more than one way, whereas truth is not divisible. There is only one way to God and that is love, and there is only one way to travel that road and that is service. Service to the utmost sacrifice.

The religion of the Spirit is one that will bind all men together, and that is to be attained by turning away from man and to God. That is to serve God in each man and not man as man. So long as we try to serve the world as the world we will never succeed, we will never get anything done. The religion that is universal is that one which unites all souls in God, which is absolutely severed from self, from desire, etc. In loving and serving, my friend, I have to distinguish between my friend and the real friend in him. In summing up, Mr. Ives said that the religion of Universality is the life of God in humanity. It is God expressing himself in each soul, it is the God of Truth and Love and Service expressing himself in humanity that is now bringing about this universal religion—the unity of the Spirit of God in man.

On July 19, at 10:30 a. m., Mr. Colby will give his closing talk entitled "Brotherhood of the East and the West," and at 3:30 there will be the usual informal conference, conducted by Mr. H. F. Ober.

FIND MURDERED MAN IN FIELD

Police Seek Victim's Wife and Companion in Beverly Case.

Beverly July 9.—The body of Gaetano Barileto, missing from his home since July 4th was found in a field near Montserrat this evening, bearing wounds, suggesting that he was murdered. His wife and erstwhile friend, Gaetano Davaio, a Beverly storekeeper are missing.

Mrs. Davaio told the Beverly police that her husband had eloped with Mrs. Barileto, after confessing that they took Mr. Barileto into a hayfield in the country and killed him. She said her husband cleaned a bloody stiletto on the morning of July 5, that he took all his money on July 7 and set out for Boston, accompanied by the wife of the missing man.

The police fully believe that Barileto's wife and Davaio lured Barileto out of town to a lonely spot to pick blueberries, and killed him.

They believe it to have been a crime surpassing in its features of duplicity and cold premeditation anything in the criminal annals of the city.

Arthur Stafford notified Chief S. Walter Woodbury at 7:30 last evening that he had found in a hayfield off Grover street, Montserrat, the body of a murdered man, whom he believed to be the missing Barileto. The police soon located the body, which was sent to Desmond's undertaking rooms in charge of the medical examiner. A superficial examination showed at least one stab wound over the hip, on the right side, as though the man had been struck from behind. Other marks were found which may prove to be bullet wounds.

CURRENT OPINION

Students Who Enter College Young on Average Better Scholars Than Older Ones.

Some men stay only three years in college and hasten to get actively at work in the world, although they feel no financial pressure. Considering the present age of entrance, this is not without justification.

CHILDREN IN THE UNITED STATES ARE SENT TO SCHOOL LATE. BOYS WHO SHOULD BE PREPARED FOR COLLEGE AT SIXTEEN OR SEVENTEEN ARE HELD BACK ON THE THEORY THAT THEY ARE TOO YOUNG TO BE EXPOSED TO THE TEMPTATIONS OF COLLEGE LIFE.

This is clearly a mistake because statistics have demonstrated that STUDENTS WHO ENTER YOUNG ARE ON THE AVERAGE BETTER SCHOLARS THAN THE OLDER ONES.—By A. Lawrence Lowell, President of Harvard University.

WILL GIVE OPERA.

Proceeds to Be Devoted to Furnishing House of Newington Historical Society.

The Newington Historical Society is a growing popular organization in that town. The town of Newington recently gave this society an old fashioned house, which is situated opposite the Town Hall. The society will remodel the house, have it painted, and papered with old fashioned tapestry and furnish it in Colonial style. Many relics and heirlooms of several well known people have been given for this purpose through the generosity of their owners. This house will soon be equal to the Colonial Dame mansion of this city.

On Wednesday evening, June 22nd, there is to be presented the charming opera "Sylvia," which will include ten principals and large chorus. The presentation will be most spectacular and will be given out of doors in an amphitheatre which will be erected purposely for the occasion. Miss Lucy M. Hoye is the director of the opera.

The entertainment committee consists of Miss Anna Beane, chairman; Florence Coleman, Mrs. Charles Badger, Mrs. Joseph L. Schurman, Miss Pauline Knox, Mrs. Beth Rand and Mrs. Nettie Hodgdon.

SENATE REPORTS UNFAVORABLY ON CHOICE OF JONES

Administration Meets Defeat in First Stage of Fight.

Washington, July 9.—The administration met defeat today in the first stage of its fight to have the senate confirm the nomination of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago and Paul M. Warburg of New York as members of the federal reserve board. The banking and currency committee voted 7 to 1 to report the nomination of Mr. Jones to the senate with an unfavorable recommendation and unanimously agreed to postpone indefinitely further consideration of the nomination of Mr. Warburg.

The Jones report will be submitted by acting chairman Hillebrand early next week and the debate over his confirmation will be resumed on the floor of the senate behind closed doors in executive session. No further action will be taken by the committee on the Warburg appointment unless the New York banker changes his mind and decides to accept the committee invitation to appear before it and submit to questioning. The committee's action on these two nominations was taken in the face of a determined effort on the part of the President to secure approval of them.

In his conference with the newspaper men today the President made it clear that he would keep up the fight. It was pointed out tonight that by insisting on confirmation of Warburg the President was running into the question of senate prerogatives and might find many votes against him which would otherwise be on his side. The senate has grumbled for years about the invasion of its prerogatives by Presidents, and in this case many senators feel they have found an issue on which they can stand together. Senator Lewis of Illinois is conducting the fight for the confirmation of Jones.

It was understood he counts upon a majority of two to put the nomination through, but it is considered that even a half dozen senators might delay confirmation for many weeks if not defeat it entirely.

A real campaign to put the Jones nomination through might cause the senate to abandon the work on anti-trust legislation and keep in executive session most of the time.

Opposition to Mr. Jones was based on the fact that he is a director of the International Harvester Company, now being used by the government as a combination in restraint of trade and illegal under the Sherman anti-trust act.

Sensors Lee of Maryland, Hollis Pomeroy and Shafroth, all Democrats, voted to make a favorable report on the nomination. Senators Hillebrand and Reed, Democrats, and Brewster, Nelson, Crawford, Weeks and McLean, Republicans, voted for an unfavorable report.

KITTERY POINT.

Items of Interest from the Harbor Town.

The big five master Dorothy Palmer at anchor in the lower harbor, made an unprovoked assault upon the schooner Sarah E. Davis, also at anchor, on Wednesday afternoon and broke her jib boom. The affair is especially flagrant from the fact that the Dorothy is of 2300 tons register, while Sarah is a diminutive party measuring only 149 tons. Moreover it is Dorothy's second offense since she has been here this summer and she should be dealt with accordingly.

Most of those who saw the hydroplane from Boston enter and leave the harbor on Thursday, received new ideas as to what constitutes high speed on the water. The craft stopped long enough to take in a supply of gasoline and proceeded for Bar Harbor.

GUADALAJARA IS CAPTURED BY OBREGON

Federal Army Routed, 5000 Captured, Mexico City Cut Off.

Douglas, Ariz., July 9. Telegraphing from the governor's palace in Guadalajara, Gen. Alvaro Obregon today informed P. S. Elias, border representative of the Constitutionalists, that he had captured the city Wednesday morning and utterly routed 12,000 Federalists commanded by General Miel.

In a fierce battle extending over a zone of 80 miles, the Federal army was cut to pieces by Obregon's force of less than 10,000 men. Five thousand Federalists were captured, Obregon said, besides all the artillery and ammunition of the enemy. Those who escaped are being pursued by Constitutional cavalry. General Blanco was sent to cut off all communication with Mexico City. He tore up the railroad line and prevented the Federalists moving any stores out of the city.

Very few of the attacking force were killed or wounded, Obregon reported. He informed Elias that he led his men personally into Guadalajara. The city went wild with enthusiasm over the entrance of the revolutionary forces and it is estimated here that Obregon will obtain 15,000 recruits in the city before marching on Toluca, the railroad junction on the Mexican Central railroad connecting the City of Mexico with northeastern and western Mexico.

General Obregon's telegram reporting his victory, addressed to General Carranza, at Monterey, follows: "At this moment, I am, I telegraph you from the governor's palace in this city. The column sent out by the Federalists to meet us was disastrously destroyed. General Blanco was sent to cut off all communication with Mexico City. The losses of the Federalists I am unable to compute as yet. The battle covered a distance of over one hundred kilometers and they are scattered all over this territory.

"Those who escaped are in flight or dispersed entirely. For three days we fought over 12,000 of the enemy. They practically captured all artillery and ammunition held by enemy, and 5000 prisoners. Others coming in all the time and surrendering. Very few of our men are wounded or killed. No officers. Enthusiasm reigns in the city. Perfect order is being maintained in the city. Elias said Obregon telegraphed him. Celebrations are going on tonight.

NEW HAVEN OBJECTION NOT WEIGHTY ENOUGH

Boston, July 9.—The refusal of the New Haven Railroad directors to accept the enabling legislation for the sale of the Boston & Maine Railroad stock on account of the so-called "string" which would allow the Commonwealth to take the B. & M. R. R. shares in question at a price fixed by agreement or by the courts, was discussed at considerable length this morning.

Frederick J. Macleod, chairman of the Public Service Commission, when asked his opinion regarding the action of the New Haven directors, said that he was considerably surprised, as the matter came before the Massachusetts Legislature on the initiative of the New Haven Railroad, which sought the help of the Legislature to escape the consequences of a Federal suit for violation of the Sherman Antitrust law. In regard to the claim of the New Haven directors that the shares would be made unsalable by the stamping on each certificate, now or hereafter issued, that it was subject to being taken by the Commonwealth for an agreed price or one set by the courts, Mr. Macleod claimed that the benefits which would attach would more than balance any market loss.

"I have talked with investors," said Chairman Macleod, "and they say that in their opinion, the stamping will in no way impair the intrinsic value of the stock. The market value of a stock, however, is not governed entirely by the intrinsic value, but by what the investing public believes about it. It is like character testimony in a court, not what a man's real character is, but what his neighbors think of him."

Taking Over Would Boost Stock. The public took the view that the stamping was an actual impairment, then it would affect the market.

BROWN TAIL MOTHS SLOW IN REACHING MOTH STAGE

The impression gained that there are no brown tail moths this year, because the moths have not appeared, will be dispelled when the moths which are a week or more behind time arrive.

Those who have made an investigation state that while there are no moths this year, the pest is still plentiful, but are much later in coming to the moth state owing to the cool weather. In the lands unsprayed the brown tailed are very thick, but this year have not done as much damage as the gypses. In some places they have gone into the cotton state, but in other places they are still feeding.

The gypsy moths however present a real problem. They are so thick in some places that they have destroyed even the pine growth. For instance at the Country Club, the oak growth was all cut down, with the hopes of checking the gypses and it did kill off a great many, but wherever they could get feeding for the first six weeks on berry bushes, hickories or the like they quickly transferred to the pine trees and in some cases completely stripped the trees.

The only solution of the gypsy moths is to cut down all the oaks and trees that they can feed upon, for a gypsy cannot live on a pine tree, until after six weeks old.

COUNTRY CLUB SOCIAL

The second of the Every Other Thursday socials at the Country Club was held on Thursday afternoon and evening, and while the weather was not of the most agreeable type, the attendance was large.

In the afternoon there was auction bridge from 2.30 to five o'clock and favors were awarded the winners and for those who did not play there was tennis and golf.

Mlle. Regina Badet, of the Capucines Theatre, Paris, says: "To use Savon Cadum is both a pleasure and a satisfaction. No other soap is so soothing to the skin."

A pure soap revitalizes the skin tissues that have become dormant through neglect or abuse from the use of powders, cosmetics or cheap soap. The safest course in preserving beauty is to keep as close as possible to nature's laws by cleansing the face night and morning with Savon Cadum, the famous French Complexion soap. At drug and dept. stores, 50c.

In the evening there was dancing in the club house until eleven o'clock and refreshments of tea and cake was served.

TIMBER IN THE PHILIPPINES

Some 60,000 Square Miles Standing—Lumber Output Steadily Increasing. Washington, July 9.—Some 60,000 square miles of timber are standing in the Philippines, of which two-thirds is virgin forest, according to a pamphlet "Lumbering Industry of the Philippines," just issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, of the Department of Commerce, as No. 88 of its Special Agents Series. The commercial output of lumber has been quadrupled in the last seven years, amounting to over 12,000,000 board feet in 1913.

Although the hardwood products of the Philippine forests rank with the best in the world for cabinetwork, construction, and various uses in which durability is an essential factor, very little of the yearly output has reached the outside world, as the home demand is more than sufficient to absorb the whole of the present supply. The industry is capable of very great expansion, according to those now engaged in the business. The Director of Forestry estimates the amount of timber that could be removed annually without diminishing the productivity of the forests at ten times the present output. Capital is the principal factor necessary to develop the industry.

American sawmill and wood-working machinery will find a promising market as the lumbering industry develops according to the publication, in general the American machinery so far used has been very well liked, and nearly all sawmill and wood-working machinery now imported comes from the United States. About the same kind of equipment for sawmills as is used in the United States is in demand but hand-saws and solid-tooth circular saws, although more efficient, can be used but little because of the class of labor available and the difficulty of making repairs.

The state road from Greenland into this city was closed on Wednesday.

EMPEROR WRECK FINDING TO BE MADE PUBLIC

Quebec, July 9.—The finding of the Empress of Ireland wreck commission has been decided upon by Lord Mersey and his co-commissioners and was typed today in preparation to its delivery on Saturday. The document is upwards of 11,000 words in length. "The whole finding will not be read," said Lord Mersey today, "since much of it is of a technical nature, but all the salient points will be read."

Lord Mersey will personally read the finding, which has been agreed upon by the three commissioners and in the margin the four technical assessors will sign: "We concur."

The report not only deals with the evidence regarding the collision and loss of life, but includes a number of recommendations regarding life-saving appliances to prevent disasters of a similar kind.

Though the commissioners have the power they will take no action in regard to the punishment of those blameable for the wreck, it is understood, but will leave that for the federal authorities.

SAILORS HAVE A DANCING PARTY

The Spooky Okama Club from the U. S. S. Montauk held a dance at Freeman's hall on Thursday evening which was very largely attended. There were over two hundred couples on the floor and this included many from Dover.

The hall was very prettily decorated with flags and ships hanging being used in profusion.

The Newmarket Singing Orchestra of eight pieces furnished the music for a list of twenty-four dances.

At intermission the club served ice cream and cake to everybody present.

The officers of the dance were: President, W. E. Moser, vice president, W. Letch and secretary and treasurer, M. S. Martin. The committees were: On arrangements M. E. Curran, Reception, D. R. Smith, Refreshments, R. H. Burns, Floor Committee, H. W. Rym, J. Eastman, R. Cavanaugh and F. A. Schwarz.

TERRORS OF MOVING DAY

What Happens When the Old Home Is Not Good Enough

Among the epochal events of human experience may be reckoned those great occasions known as "moving day." When a man makes up his mind to move or his wife makes up her mind to move, man goes out and takes a long look, stuffs cotton in his ears and holds his breath until all is over.

Moving in theory takes a part of a day; moving in practice takes the best part of a month. Leaving out of consideration the mere search for a satisfactory shelter, as the day approaches, things of long and welcome abiding in the house disappear. Tables gleam hungrily with never a cloth, strange plates appear at meal times, and there is no place to sit.

Then comes the summons to active service, and gaudy barrels appear, bursting with excelsior, all of which goes through man's servile hands, and bags and trunks and suit cases and drawers, all to be filled, and moved and removed and moved again, and fell over and into and upon, until life becomes a Pilgrim's Progress with the powers of darkness ever in the ascendency. On the eve of "moving day," man crawls to his slumbers awestruck and distressed with dismal foreboding for the future morrow.

Come the morrow, and heavy-boated men, who lay violent hands upon sacred possessions, and drop them. Who tread ponderously up and down stairs, bearing off the happy home in paper and grotesque shaped installments. And then there is nothing left at all, and man departs to the new home and there is nothing there either. Then as the shades of night fall the men bring back all of the household goods, and man finds that the lights have not been connected. They set up the stove and there is no gas. So in the softly falling twilight, so beloved of poets, the men place everything in impossible places, where toys may be stubbed and shine barked. Then, with rustic candle and empty stomach, merrily to bed, perchance—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

FOG 'OSTPON'S BIG YACHT RACE

Newport, R. I., July 9.—The three cup class yachts, Resolute, Vanille and Debutante, were fogbound in Newport Harbor today, and the regatta committee of the New York Yacht Club decided at 12.30 that there was little prospect of the fog lifting and declared the contest postponed until tomorrow.

The three yachts took down their mahogany, which had been hoisted early, and everything was made right and light on board for a possible rainy afternoon and night.

The fog drove in all last night and this morning, but at 10 o'clock it began to burn off a little and the regatta committee on board C. K. G. Billings steam yacht Vanadis steamed slowly out of the harbor to look over weather conditions. The Vanadis was accompanied by the marking tug Julia Moran.

It was so thick offshore that the committee could not pick up the light vessel, whose sea cow was blowing a continuous warning to consistence abiding. The committee promptly hoisted the code flag "H," which meant that the race had been postponed for the day.

Weather permitting, the three big single-stickers will meet over a 30-mile triangular course tomorrow.

Capt. Half Confident.

The marked improvement in the racing form of Alexander S. Cochran's Vanille, which beat the Resolute yesterday but for want, but lost the contest on time allowance, has developed renewed interest in the races here; that will determine which craft will meet Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger Shamrock IV off Sandy Hook.

"We expect to win many races from now on," said Capt. Hurry Haff of the Vanille this morning, "and when we get our lighter steel gaff the Vanille will be faster than ever. Only a freshening breeze that Resolute caught first bent us yesterday. If the wind had held strong and true to the finish we would have had a long lead."

Repairs had been made in the Debutante which broke two of her peak halyard blocks just before the contest yesterday, and George M. Pynchon, her managing director, said he hoped to show what the Owen sloop would do with the changes in her rig.

W. Butler Duncan, chairman of the America Cup committee of the New York Yacht Club, was more than pleased with the close contest between Resolute and Vanille yesterday. He is watching every point made by the three yachts, and his opinion will largely determine which sloop is selected as the American defender next September.

E. D. Morgan, managing director of the cup defender Columbia, is now sailing on the Vanille.

WILL BE GIVEN A TRY OUT.

Frank Welch, pitcher of the Exeter high school baseball nine has been offered a tryout on the Dover team of the Trolley league which is composed of the Dover, Rochester, Somersworth and York Beach nines.

SPECTATOR INJURED AT BALL GAME

Miss Marion McIntire was badly injured on Thursday evening at the play grounds, while attending the Sunset League game between the Coal and the Knights. Miss McIntire with some friends, was seated in the third base bleachers, and in the fifth inning Piliquin swung slow on a ball that ended off his bat into the bleachers hitting Miss McIntire square in the face and with terrific force.

The ball struck her under her right eye and it split open her cheek and badly bruised her eye and nose.

She was removed to R. M. Tilton's automobile and with other Doherty taken to her home on Lincoln avenue and Dr. A. C. Hoffenger called. He found that while there were no bones broken her face was badly cut, and the eye completely closed, although the sight of the eye is not injured.

It was purely an accident, but Piliquin was struck out and in the last inning barely pulled himself together enough to win the game, being reached for three hits.

WARBURG'S NAME TO GO BEFORE THE SENATE

Washington, July 9.—Paul M. Warburg, the New York banker, has reconsidered his request that President Wilson withdraw his nomination as a member of the Federal Reserve Board on condition that he will not consent to appear before the Senate Banking Committee to be cross-examined. After receipt of a telegram from Mr. Warburg today it was said by officials close to the President that an active effort would be made for the confirmation. It was declared that should the banking committee fail to report the nomination favorably the President expects the Senate as a whole to reject Mr. Warburg's telegram to the President was not given out, but after his receipt officials at the White House said the name would not be withdrawn. That followed a visit by Senators Thomas and Shafroth to the White House. They are understood to have told a very few Democrats would oppose Mr. Warburg's confirmation.

The situation as to the nomination of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago remained unchanged, and it was said at the White House that the President would continue to press for his confirmation.

Committee May Insist.
No official word went from the White House to the committee, but some senators were indicating that the committee would stand by its request. It was said two Democrats on the committee planned to compile all the correspondence in the case and send it to the White House. The Warburg nomination was discussed only informally today by the committee. It took up in detail the nomination of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago.

A letter from the Chicago delegation of business men received yesterday, by the President, in which Mr. Wilson's statement in support of Mr. Warburg and Mr. Jones was made public at the White House. "No more hopeful, helpful, finer words ever have come from the White House, and we believe they will meet with the nation's hearty approval," said the letter.

FAIRY TALES ARE TRUE!

Science Has at Last Justified Itself by Discovering What Little Children Knew Long Ago.

Science has come to the rescue of the fairy story. The "little folk," which common sense has long since relegated to nursery tales, have been released by certain modern thinkers, dusted off and placed on earth again—though many hundred years back.

In the folk tales the fairies are always represented as living in green mountains. They pop up their heads when disturbed by persons treading on their houses. They live on familiar terms with the people about them when they treat them ill. Alliances are formed between fairies and men and the fairies even live themselves out as servants to the men.

The fairies are remembered as a small race the men about four feet tall and the women much shorter. Both men and women commonly dress in green, although the men in some places are now and then referred to as "little red men" on account of the cone shaped red hats they wear.

So much for tradition. Now for science.

Modern archeology, declares Dr. Thurnburg, has established beyond all reasonable doubt the prehistoric existence in Europe of one or two non-Aryan races of pygmies, very dark, very short, some with long skulls surviving in the Welsh, some with round skulls surviving in the Lapps.

Years ago J. E. Campbell the British anthropologist who has put himself to considerable pains over the fairy problem, made a journey among the Lapps and found remarkably close agreement between them and the description of the fairies given by the Scotch Highlanders.

The missionaries who were sent to preach the gospel among the Lapps during the 17th and 18th centuries all connected the "sleide" for "shoe" with a certain worship practiced by the Lapps at that time.

Since ages past the Lapps, as Mr. Campbell learned, believed that in some mountains or hills which they called "saivir" there dwelt a race of men much like their own, carrying on the same occupations and owning the same kind of animals as they, but differing from them otherwise in having reached a higher state of perfection. The "saivir" race were thought to be a people of great wealth and splendor, well versed in witchcraft and in the use of magic charms, while in comparison the Lapps considered themselves to be poor, miserable creatures constantly in need of the protection, instruction and aid of the others.

Hence probably the Nibelungs or dwarfs or elves or gnomes or other underground pygmies of fairy folklore—the fairies Triana.

PROMPTED, DELUDED, CHEATED

The Immigration Lured Here By Misrepresentation An Abuse to Be Eradicated.

In three fiscal years, 1905, 1907, 3,413,000 immigrants entered the United States. The very year the panic broke, 1907, saw also the immigration record broken with a total of 1,285,349.

Week was and continued hence. In the next six years, 1908-1913, about 3,240,000 aliens left our shores. Make due allowance for those paying visits home, or returning to live in Europe, and there remain a vast number whose coming had meant sorrow and loss, whose going meant disillusionment—ah almost incredible sum of human tragedies. There may have been a million such individual cases.

Is the guess too high? Another year or two will fill up the total past adventure. Again we are faced with a record immigration. With industry sluggish and much unemployment, 603,536 entered the country in the ten months ending with April and the usual proportion for May and June will bring the year's total up to about 1,350,000.

It is inconceivable that such an immigration should have come in such seasons by natural process, without misrepresentation. It is inconceivable that in six years, 3,240,000 departing aliens should have met 5,413,000 coming in; that 1913 alone should have brought nearly 1,300,000; that 1914 is to land 1,350,000, or more than the probable total of unemployment—unless lies had swollen the host to satisfy greed.

If folk hitherto honest are turned criminal by disappointment, if provocation drives normal people to the hospitals, or mental anguish maddens them, if a vast army face loss of time and waste of money hurried through years of industry, heavy lies the responsibility upon steamship companies that comb every hamlet in Europe to sweep possible passengers into their dragnets.

No immigration bill that Congress can pass will do what is expected if it does not deal with this abuse at the source. "Assisted" immigration," of which we have heard so much, we can defeat. It is with immigration prompted, deluded, cheated, that we have to deal.

NO HOPE FOR MUCH CHEAPER WHEAT.

Record Yield of United States Offset by Only Average Crops in Other Countries and Relatively Short Supply of Corn for Livestock Feed.

Washington, July 9.—Despite a wheat crop estimated this year at 930,000,000 bushels, the largest on record, no hope is held out by the Department of Agriculture for greatly reduced prices. Such a large crop would mean very low prices, according to a statement today, were it not that the world crops of wheat and competing grains do not promise more than the average of recent years. Besides more than the usual diversion of wheat from its use as food for man to the use of feed for livestock may be expected because of the present relatively short supply of corn in sections where there is a promise of abundant wheat.

With corn selling in Kansas for about seven cents more per bushel than wheat it is not surprising, officials say, that much wheat should be consumed as feed by animals. Kansas corn crop last year was only 23,000,000 bushels, compared with the usual production of 150,000,000 bushels. This year's estimates are for a crop of 150,000,000 bushels of wheat.

It is estimated that about 45,000,000 bushels of wheat of last year's crop was consumed as animal feed. Of the average annual production of 680,000,000 bushels of wheat during the past five years, about 581,000,000 were retained in this country and 100,000,000 bushels exported. If the domestic wheat requirement were reckoned at about 5.3 bushels per capita, exclusive of seed and 75 to 80 million bushels for seed and were applied to a population of 98,536,000 officials say it would indicate a normal requirement of 522,770,000 bushels, plus seed requirement of 77,000,000, or a total of about 600,000,000. The statement adds that this would indicate an available export supply from the crop of nearly 330,000,000 bushels, but there must be deducted from this amount the quantity used for livestock feeding estimated at approximately 75,000,000 and possibly more. Even this would leave about 255,000,000 for export.

WANTS SIR THOMAS LIPTON CRIMINALLY PROSECUTED.

Liberal Member Makes Suggestion in Connection with Army Supplies Scandal.

London, July 9.—Criminal prosecution of Sir Thomas Lipton, the chairman and his co-directors in Lipton Limited, was suggested by Sir Arthur Markham, a Liberal member, in a question addressed to the attorney general, appearing in today's Parliamentary papers. The question, the putting of which was postponed by arrangement, asks whether, in view of Justice Darling's statement, that the defendants in the army canteen scandal case were acting upon a system which was encouraged by the directorate of the company, the attorney general "has held the papers in the case before the public prosecutor, with a view to criminal proceedings for fraud and bribery against Sir Thomas Lipton and his co-directors."

The question arose out of the recent conviction of nine army officers and eight civilians in Lipton Limited, on charge of receiving and giving bribes to influence the allotment of supply contracts, for the army canteens.

HOME RULE BILL AS AMENDED WILL BE ACCEPTED

London, July 9.—The Daily Telegraph today asserts, on high authority, that the government "eventually will accept the Home Rule Bill as amended by the House of Lords. It adds that there will be no difficulty regarding the abolition of the time limit but that the Redmondites will stoutly oppose the exclusion of the whole of Ulster. They will, however, the Telegraph declares, be out-voted on this point in the House of Commons by a combination of Unionists and Liberals. Three Amendments Adopted.

The House of Lords is dealing with the bill amending the Home Rule bill with unusual expedition and is wasting little time in discussion. Three important amendments were adopted yesterday. The first provided for the abolition of the clause of the bill requiring that a vote shall be taken in each county of Ulster on the question whether it should be excluded from the operation of the Home Rule bill. The second provided for the total exclusion of Ulster without time limit. The third, which was accepted by the government, places the excluded Ulster under a secretary of state, instead of the lord lieutenant, in order to avoid any possibility of influence from Dublin. An amendment offered by Lord Macdonnell proposing a sort of Home Rule within Home Rule by setting up a special Ulster council of fifty-two members to take over the chief administrative work of the province was supported by Moderates like Lord Lonsdale and Baron Curzon, but was rejected on division by 195 to 20.

The amendment moved by Lord Lansdowne, providing for the total exclusion of Ulster from Home Rule without time limit, was next adopted, 133 to 29. Lord Lansdowne, referring to the Marquis of Crewe's challenge Monday, said that the opposition would not guarantee that Ulster's exclusion would prevent civil war. Things had come to such a pass in Ireland that it was impossible for anyone to guarantee what might happen there in the next few weeks, even days. "But on the whole," he continued, "we are inclined to believe that this arrangement is more likely than any other to provide relief from the present anarchy."

BRIGHT PROSPECT FOR NAVY YARD

Secretary Roosevelt Says Department Will Make it a Manufacturing Station and Give Men Steady Work

For the second time, Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, visited the Portsmouth navy yard today, where he made a thorough inspection of nearly every part of the reservation and was especially interested in the manufacturing equipment of the station. He arrived at the yard shortly before 9 o'clock on the commandant's launch, which met him at the Daniel street ferry landing. At the yard he received the customary salute of 15 guns but the marine guard was not lined up as usual owing to the small number of men now on duty at the station.

The secretary was met by Captain H. A. Field, commandant; Captain Frank H. Bartlett, head of the machinery division; Naval Constructor L. H. Adams, head of the hull division; Civil Engineer L. E. Rellinger, and Pay Inspector E. T. Arms, and began his tour immediately.

To a Herald reporter the secretary said, "I am here mostly regarding the future development of the Portsmouth yard and the most important features just now is the building of boats and the manufacturing of electrical fittings for the navy. This navy yard has done so well in such work that the department is planning to have all this work done at Portsmouth if it can be arranged by the change in some buildings to handle work."

"What are the prospects for future work here?" asked the reporter.

"That is just what we are trying to get at. We want the men to have steady work and if we make this a manufacturing yard, we can provide against lay offs and discharges. We intend to have a lot of manufacturing so that when the ships are away the men can have other employment."

He told the heads of the departments that building No. 18, the former machine shop, should be utilized and it is understood that when the boat building advances, this building will be made a storage for boats and the present store house turned into a boat shop. While at the naval prison he interviewed W. W. Dickey, a court

The girls caught Miss Borthwick and she soon found herself bound fast in the rope, which was filled with parcels, which she later opened, and discovered a most complete set of attractive baskets, racks, knick-knacks and kitchen ware. After this, the girls enjoyed "five hundred," four tables being in play. Refreshments of ices, fancy crackers, cakes and fruit punch were served by the hostesses. It was a late hour when the "adieux" were said.
